I WOULD LOVE TO WORK WITH YOU!

Hi, I am Anya

That curiosity first led me to law, but motherhood redirected it in a far more meaningful way.

From depositions to diapers, I traded my attorney career for finger paints when I realized the most powerful influence on a person's life happens long before adulthood. I saw how overwhelmed parents were, how much noise existed around parenting and education, and how little of it felt practical or grounded in real life.

For the past several years, I've built Montessori From The Heart® into a trusted education platform by sharing clear, research-informed, and doable guidance for families. My content is intentionally practical, rooted in child development, and designed to meet parents where they are — busy, caring, and craving clarity. The result is a highly engaged community that doesn't just consume content, but applies it at home.

I'm obsessed with people — little people in particular. I've always been fascinated by how humans grow, learn, and become who they are.

Today, through The Anya Garcia Show™, I continue to help moms replace overwhelm with confidence, screens with connection, and pressure with purpose — one thoughtful choice at a time.
